Dear Andrea and Rebecca:

Congratulations on receiving a 2008 Will Solemine Award for Excellence in Biomedical Communication for "What a Year!" We are also pleased to announce that based on the recommendation of the judges, "What a Year!" has also been selected to receive the Neil Duane Award for Distinction in Biomedical Communication. This prestigious award is presented only sporadically to a single entry that is considered to stand out from all those received. You should be very proud of this dual recognition.

Congratulations again!

Best wishes,
